By WAYNE DUCOMB JR.
A public hearing scheduled Nov. 28 in Waveland will air comments regarding Hancock County and Mississippi Gulf Coast wastewater treatment needs. The hearing is one of several set along the coast regarding the Gulf Coast Area-wide Wastewater Management Plan, but the only one concerning a 1983 update to Hancock's '201 Facilities Plan.'

The Waveland Regional Wastewater Management District Board of Directors at a Wednesday night meeting approved conducting the hearing to begin at 7 p.m. at the Waveland Library, 333 Coleman Ave.

A legal notice appears in this issue of The Sea Coast Echo regarding the hearings.

Ethel Schott, Waveland district administrator, explained Friday that the 201 plan will project Hancock's wastewater treatment needs for the next 30 years and how the district will meet those demands.

Also available for review will be a '208 Implementation Statement.'

John McCarty, State Department of Natural Resources Bureau of Pollution Control Hancock project engineer, explained recently that the 208 statement lists the managerial authority of the Waveland district to implement the Hancock 201 plan.

At the Wednesday meeting, McCarty reported copies of the 201 plan and 208 statement will both be available locally for public review beginning Oct. 28 at Waveland Library, City-County Library on US-90 in Bay St. Louis and the Hancock Courthouse in that city.

The project engineer said the hearing will include statements regarding the plan by himself; Schott; Board Chairman Mayor John Longo; BPC South Mississippi Supervisor Caleb Dana, Water Division Head Barry Royals and Municipal Section Head Mark Smith; and Ray Eaton of Lewis-Eaton Partnership of Jackson, the engineering firm which formulated the plan.

Following those reports, the general public will be invited to offer statements or ask questions regarding the plan and statement, McCarty reported.

After the hearing, the statement and plan will both be presented to the State Department of Natural Resources Commission for adoption as part of a statewide plan to then be approved by the governor and then submitted to the United States Environmental Protection Agency for funding consideration, the project engineer explained.

McCarty said the Waveland district is already on an EPA grant list for improvements to the Bay St. Louis sewage oxidation pond treatment system.

He explained that $300,000 in a 75-25 matching grant may be available in 1984 funds for extending Bay St. Louis' sewage pond outfall line from Watts Bayou to Jourdan River. The outfall is causing a green algae accumulation in the bayou.

In addition, McCarty reported the water quality from the Bay pond needs to be improved by physical modifications to the treatment facility itself.

Coupled with those improvements, the amount of rainwater infiltration into Bay sewerage must be determined as a first step to pinpoint the location 'failing sewers,' McCarty suggested.

He requested the board notify Lewis-Eaton to consider the $300,000 in the 201 plan so projects may be geared to utilize that amount of money in 1984.

In a related matter, the board approved a recommendation by Schott to purchase a $650 influent flow meter for the Bay treatment pond which would measure daily flows into the facility.

She explained the meter would help determine the amount of rainfall infiltration into Bay sewerage as requested by McCarty.

In another matter, the board—consisting of Longo, Mayor Larry Bennett of Bay St. Louis who did not attend, and A.A. (Dolph) Kellar, County Board of Supervisors president—agreed to provide sewerage treatment plant testing services at a rate of $290 monthly beginning Oct. 1 to the County Port and Harbor Commission.

Wastewater district personnel, as set out in the agreement, will regularly test effluent from the Bayou Cadet Marina and Port Bienville Industrial Park sewage treatment plants provided the commission regularly mows grass and eradicates fire ants at these facilities.

Kiln artisan, Texas gauge inspector

Handicapped mother, son pursuing enjoyable lives

By WAYNE DUCOMB JR.

A mother and son, both Kiln natives and senior citizens, are undauntedly living happy and productive lives in spite of serious handicaps.

Carrie Gatewood, 80, of Kiln is undergoing radiation treatments almost daily for throat cancer and must primarily utilize a wheelchair just to move around her home as the result of two severe bone breaks she suffered in one leg a few years ago.

But she continues to ambitiously pursue her beloved hobby of quilting at a remarkable rate—averaging one quilt every two weeks.

She also enjoys crocheting afghans and when her legs allow her to stand, she'll bake a cake.

Her son, Kenneth (Billy) Gatewood Jr., 62, of Sherman, Tex. and a gauge inspector for a local industry, was told by doctors two years ago that he would slowly become blind from a 'non-amendable, non-correctable retina disorder.'

Today he is legally blind with all but 20 percent of his vision lost, but is still working in the quality assurance department at Fisher Controls Co. in Sherman with the assistance of special visual aids provided by the Veterans Administration.

What provides the Gatewoods incentive to pursue fulfilling lives?

Carrie Gatewood proudly says, with a twinkle in her eye, an independent streak coupled with wonderfully supportive families are what helps them both maintain positive and productive attitudes.

She is the widow of the Kenneth Gatewood Sr. who died several years ago from lung cancer, mother of five, grandmother of about 14 and great-grandmother of eight.

Her only living brother, Lester

Necaise, lives in California.

She was a housewife until all of her children reached adulthood, then for several years worked as a retail store cashier.

When she could walk easier a few years ago, Gatewood was an active member of the Hancock County Senior Citizens Center in Bay St. Louis where she crafted ceramics.

Carrie Gatewood's late sister, Melva Haas, founded Melva's Place in Kiln which is now operated by her son, Sam Haas Jr.

The longtime business is in the same building on Hwy. 603 which was moved just a few feet from its previous Kiln-Delisle Road intersection site to its present location when the highway was constructed in the early 1960s.

Billy Gatewood attended the former Kiln Consolidated School, completed high school in Louisiana after they moved to Armit, and joined the then Army Air Force just before the start of World War II.

He served in the Pacific Theatre during the war, stayed in the United States Air Force for 31 years and retired. But after about two weeks of boredom and feeling helpless, the father of five adult children began working for Fisher in 1972.

After learning of his eye condition two years ago, Carrie Gatewood offered to donate one of her eyes so her could continue to see.

But she reports, "The doctors told us it would be easier to cut his head off and sew it back on than replace an entire eye."

Her son then decided to begin his quest to overcome the problems of his worsening handicap.

He obtained special low-visual aid bifocal glasses recommended by the Texas Commission for the Blind, but these did not help him enough.

So Billy Gatewood went to the VA Blind Rehabilitation Center in Waco, Tex. for three weeks of instruction so he could continue to independently per-

Annual Gumbo Festival reported successful

By ELLIS CUEVAS

The Annual Gumbo Festival held at Necaise Crossing last week was reported to be a success by L.J. Breaux, president of the organization.

Breaux said, "We have not finished our tally of the proceeds and expenses as yet, but indications are that it was a good festival."

"Proceeds from this year's event will go towards the property we purchased last year. The organization will first pay for the property on Hwy. 603 and that will probably be finished after next year's event," Breaux added.

After the property debt is taken care of Breaux indicated the organization would then select charities for the proceeds.

Ronald Peterson, Hancock County sheriff, whose department handled the security with off-duty deputies at the three-day event said everything went very well.

"We had no problems at all, everything was very orderly, it had to be one of the best festivals," Peterson stated.

Peterson continued, "The organization, (Gumbo Festival) took measures to eliminate several problems they had in the past, and they left the security up to the sheriff's office, and everything went fine."

Delbert Seay, Hancock investigator who worked the festival said, "It was a big family outing, everyone seemed to have a very good time. We received tremendous cooperation from the visitors at the festival, and there was not even one arrest made at the event."

Crowds were light on Friday and medium on Saturday, but heavy on Sunday for the festival.

Breaux stated, "We know we had a lot of conflicts on Friday and some on Saturday, which effected the attendance, but Sunday was sure a good crowd day."

The police officers working the festival are paid by the Necaise Crossing Gumbo Festival organization.

Bennett trial postponed

A trial on fraud charges brought against Larry J. Bennett, mayor of Bay St. Louis, has been postponed for the second time.

Scheduled to begin Monday, the trial will probably be moved to the January term of court according to Circuit Judge James Thomas.

Bennett's attorney, Joe Sam Owen, reportedly requested the delay because he is now moving his law office to another location and had conflicts in his trial schedule.

Bennett was indicted by the January Grand Jury on charges he used labor and materials from a street project for work on his home between August and September 1978.

A trial was scheduled for July, but Owen requested a postponement until October because of trial conflicts in his schedule.

A new trial date should be set next week.

form his inspection job with the assistance of special instruments.

These aids include a talking calculator and measuring calipers, and a television screen which enlarges documents.

Fisher also gave Gatewood a 60-inch television for home entertainment.

Carrie Gatewood says she and her son hope that through this report they will inspire those who are handicapped to seek aids so they may also continue or begin to live productive lives.

She says government agencies usually will not advertise what equipment is available to the handicapped, but recommends, "if you ask for it you can get the things you need. A lot of people tend to just give up, but we're not."

"I'm crippled and can't walk and I've got cancer in my throat, but I still can sew quilts," she says while admiring a favorite green and white quilt with maple leaf designs.

She says her son will eventually lose all vision, but doctors do not know when.

"He will work as long as his vision holds up. His boss says when he can't see anymore, they will hire someone to sit beside him to tell him the figures he needs to know," Carrie Gatewood proudly states.

She has a variety of quilts in various stages of completion laid carefully on living room chairs.

The quilt material is tastefully color coordinated with traditional cheery fabric in designs which include the oak, maple and shamrock leaf; fan; infant; bow tie; double lovers' knot and some original designs.

In the center of Carrie Gatewood's living room factory are two old but pampered shiny black electric Singer sewing machines in perfect condition.

She never has sold any of her quilts made over the last 25 years because she enjoys giving them to her children.

Although she makes most of her quilts in two weeks, she says the ones with appliques 'take a little longer' to complete.

She maintains this busy crafting schedule along with the almost daily radiation treatments in which she has completed about three weeks of a five-week regimen.

The radiation has destroyed her sense of taste which has hindered her cake baking hobby in addition to being crippled.

In the face of this uncomfortable treatment schedule and illness, Carrie Gatewood confidently smiles, but firmly states she plans to overcome her throat cancer and continue living a productive and happy life.

"The doctors say everything is looking good," she adds.

State's First Lady to address librarians

Mrs. William Winter will speak to approximately 85 Student Library Assistants of Mississippi (SLAM) at the Seabee Center theater on Friday.

SLAM is an organization introduced by librarians for library assistants and offers programs beyond the scope of what individual schools can offer.

Mississippi has been divided into fourteen SLAM regions, with the first state SLAM meeting held March 6, 1984 in Jackson.

Region VII students from Pearl River, Stone, George, Jackson, Harrison, and Hancock Counties will be aboard the Seabee Center for their fall meeting.

The group will be given a windshield tour of the center following Mrs. Winter's address.

The Echo regrets the error.

A news report in the Thursday issue of The Sea Coast Echo should have listed J and M and Associates, Inc. of Waveland as owner of property on the south side of Gulfside Drive in Waveland adjacent to city land.

The report listed Alice Breaux of Bay St. Louis as the owner.

The Echo apologizes for the error.

Tigers ruin Bearcats, 29-0

By RANDY PONDER
In what appeared to be a mismatch, the Bay High Tigers took the fight out of the Bearcats, 29-0, Friday night in Long Beach.

The long silent Tiger offense roared to life in the contest, scratching out nearly 300 of offense yards, moving the football almost at will over the timid Bearcats.

While Bay High was rolling up the yardage, Long Beach would run three plays and punt. The Bearcats could muster just one first down the entire first half, it coming on a busted play with the quarterback having to run the ball to avoid a sack.

On their first possession of the game, the Tigers moved to the Long Beach 4 on the running of David McIver, but failed to get any points, turning the ball over on downs.

Long Beach took over and quickly had to punt, giving Bay High good field position just inside the 50.

This time the Tigers were unstoppable, taking their time on a 49 yard TD drive.

McIver again was the workhorse, carrying the ball for 32 yards on 6 attempts.

On fourth and four at the Bearcat 5, quarterback Jeffrey Smith pitched the football to McIver and he in turn passed to a wide open Eddie Nelson in the endzone for the score. The extra point missed, leaving the Tigers on top 6-0 at the start of the second stanza. Bay High padded their lead on their next series when Stace McRaney booted a 32 yard fieldgoal, making the score 9-0.

After the kick, the Bearcats picked up their only first down when their quarterback escaped a sack and streaked up the sidelines for a 19 yard gain. It was the extent of their offense. On the next play they fumbled the ball away.

Eugene Ramond recovered the loose ball at the Long Beach 41. Bay High was unable to advance and gave the football back to the Bearcats on downs.

Following an exchange of punts, Bay High had an apparent touchdown called back on a clipping penalty. A 60 yard pass and run by Willie Lewis was negated by the infraction.

With only 12 seconds remaining in the half, Ramond claimed his second fumble recovery at the Long Beach 37, giving the Tigers a chance for one play. Bay High made it count on a trick play that fooled everyone. Quarterback Jeffrey Smith pitched the ball to Eddie Nelson for an apparent run, but Nelson crossed up the gullible Bearcat defenders and passed the ball to wide receiver Darrin Smith in the corner of the endzone for a gift touchdown. McRaney added the PAT, giving the Tigers a 16-0 halftime cushion.

Bay High scored again in the third period on a short, 35 yard, drive capped by an eight yard run for the points by McIver. The extra point try failed, as the Tigers breezed to a 22-0 advantage.

The Tigers final tally occurred mid-way through the final frame on another short drive, with McIver again diving over for the TD to finish off the demoralized Bearcats, 29-0.

The only thing in doubt from the onset of the ballgame was how many points the Tigers would score. Bay High completely dominated the entire contest, holding the Bearcats to a miserable 48 yards of total offense.

Three plays and punt, three plays and punt, three plays and punt, four plays and fumble, and four plays and punt was the way the hapless Bearcats first half went. A coach's nightmare. And the second half if anything was worse.

McIver lead the Tigers in rushing with 121 yards on 22 carries, followed by Harold Gillum with 20 yards on 7 tries.

Smith completed 5 of 11 passes for 77 yards without an interception, in fact the Tigers did not have a turnover all night.

Nelson was the leading

INTERCEPTION—Eddie Nelson, 12, steals the football from Bearcat receiver Joey Hebert. Willie Lewis, 30, also appears to be in position to intercept the ball if Nelson falls. Tiger receiver with 3 catches for 63 yards and 1 touchdown. He also completed a pass to Darrin Smith for a score and intercepted a Bearcat pass.

McIver completed 1 of 2 passes, a 5 yard TD strike to Nelson.

John Roy pulled in 2 passes for 11 yards and McIver had 1 catch for an 8 yard pickup.

Bay High, 5-1, will host the East-Central Hornets Friday in an important, to the Tigers, Deep South Conference contest. Game time is 7:30p.m. at Tiger Stadium.

Quotables by CUEVAS

The temptation must have been too much for someone to pass up the two naked ladies on the median at the intersection of US-90 and Beach Boulevard in Bay St. Louis last week. Someone had to pick them.

It appears to be a very good season in our area for the naked ladies, as they are blooming all over and you see them on just about every block.

The red ones are the most popular and occasionally you will see a white or yellow one.

While on the subject of flowers, many residents have already planted their Fall gardens and are hoping for some rainfall.

It has gotten dry in recent weeks, and it takes moisture to get a good garden started.

Fall is here, and the dry spell we now have could be very dangerous with wild fires.

We urge all citizens to please be extremely careful when burning trash.

We know all fire fighters are sitting on edge until we can get some rain.

Wednesday of next week is a very important day in Hancock County.

There will be a Blood Drawing on Wednesday from 2 to 8 p.m. at the American Legion Home off Blue Meadow Road in Bay St. Louis.

A goal of 125 units has been set, and it is hard for us to remember when a blood drawing in recent years reached such a number.

This means many persons will have to give a unit of blood in order for the quota to be reached.

The Hancock County Blood Bank has collected thousands of units of blood over the years, and it has helped save many lives.

If you are able to give blood, it will be put to good use.

We know J.D. (Big John) Rutherford, doctors, nurses, and volunteers, some of whom have been donating time for over 20 years, would like to see a big turnout.

We hope to see you at the blood drawing.

This is just a reminder about the benefit Cut-A-Thon today from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. sponsored by Sheer's Delight, Highway 90, Bay St. Louis.

The proceeds from this Cut-A-Thon are for the United Way of Hancock County.

As you know the annual United Way Campaign is now underway and it takes a lot of help to reach a goal of $45,000.

Hilda Bourg, 1983 campaign chairman, has been busy promoting the drive and we are hoping through the help of everyone, the goal will be reached very soon.

The People's Business

Mississippi is moving strongly in the direction of education reform, the movement stemming from voter approval of a constitutional amendment providing for a lay board of education and an appointed state superintendent of education and legislative approval of the Education Reform Act of 1982.

No question about it, Mississippi has attracted national headlines because of these changes.

Before we begin celebrating too loudly, however, we need to face the cold facts about education in Mississippi and about the Education Reform Act.

Here are some of the facts we need to remember:

A major provision of the Education Reform Act is the requirement for competency-based testing of students. Students won't be moving from grade to grade unless they are able to pass a competency test.

Competency testing is new in Mississippi, the testing plan is still to be developed. But competency testing is not new across the country.

The Education Commission of the States reported in 1980 — two years ago — that 38 of the 50 states were then requiring competency testing.

Of nine southern states surveyed, eight had already implemented competency testing. Georgia had implemented a program in 1975 and South Carolina had developed a similar program in 1978. The State of Virginia initiated competency testing for students as early as 1950.

The cold facts about education are these: We are still catching up. The Education Reform Act, when fully implemented, merely helps us to catch up with most of the rest of the nation.

There is still work to be done beyond the reform act.

THE WHITE HOUSE WASHINGTON

NATIONAL NEWSPAPER WEEK October 9-15, 1983

Since the founding of this nation, freedom of the press has been a fundamental tenet of American life. The economic freedom that has earned us such great bounty and the precious freedoms of speech and assembly would have little meaning or be totally nullified should freedom of the press ever be ended. There is no more essential ingredient than a free, strong, and independent press to our continued success in what the Founding Fathers called our "noble experiment" in self-government.

Today, as we survey the globe, we find increasing hostility to the principles of open communication. Both the governments of many nations and certain international organizations advocate or enforce policies alien to a free flow of ideas. This promotion of censorship reflects a manifest fear of the truth and deprecation of the great importance of liberty to human advancement.

The theme of this year's observance of National Newspaper Week, "A Free Press - Democracy's First Defense," helps focus attention on the essential role of a free press to the progress and development of democratic institutions. This occasion also serves as a reminder of the singular worth of a free press to the well-being of our country. As Thomas Jefferson wrote, "Our liberty depends on the freedom of the press."

Throughout National Newspaper Week, all Americans are pleased to note the many contributions of the men and women of our nation's press to the preservation of the First Amendment's guarantee of freedom of the press. Of the forces shaping the destiny of our civilization, none is more crucial to our future than the responsible reporting and truthful analysis of the events of our era. I commend your dedicated efforts in pursuit of their goals.

Media criticized for apparent lack of interest in prestigious sailing event

To the Editor:
The Media — A Point of View

The 64th Lipton Cup Regatta was in its last (Labor Day), and I was quite miffed that neither the newspapers or the TV sportscasters had carried any item of it for the three previous days.

The Lipton Cup presented by Sir Thomas Lipton, of tea fame, has been contested yearly by the various yacht clubs of the Gulf Yachting Association and is considered to be the first and one of the finest competitions in American sailing.

Therefore, I phoned the Daily Herald and asked to speak to the Sports Department.

Being told that no one was on duty at the time, I asked to leave a message complaining of this oversight.

The message was duly recorded and I was assured of it being passed along to the proper correspondent.

I then phoned the TV station WLOX and asked for Elaine Stevens and then Pat McManus and was told that both were off this holiday.

I requested any one in the sports section — no one there; call back at 4 p.m. I was told.

Stating that I would not be on hand at that time I requested to leave a message and recited its contents.

The answer stated that it would not be possible to relay the message — "Call back at 4 p.m."

I then asked, "What if I had been calling in to report a murder?"

"Oh," he said, "That would be NEWS."

Red Cross Mobile Unit to conduct blood drawing Wednesday at Bay Legion Hall

Oct. 7, 1983

Dear Friend and Member:

The American Red Cross Mobile Unit will be at the American Legion Home, Post 139, Bay St. Louis on Wednesday, Oct. 12, from 2 to 8 p.m.

Our quota for this blood drawing is 125 units.

Since your last drawing, we have had a heavy demand for blood, and supplies are short.

We know you are aware of the importance to the life and health of our community to have blood available at all times, and that to do this we need your help. Please request your members and employees and their families and friends to come in Wednesday afternoon, Oct. 12, and donate a unit of blood.

Your assistance in any way at your command is urgently needed, since as you probably are aware, the shortage of blood is desperate nationwide, and therefore many of our sources of emergency blood are no longer available.

Please read this at your next meeting, post on your bulletin board, or publish it in any bulletins before the blood drawing.

Sincerely,
John D. Rutherford Jr.

Educational improvements in Hancock applauded as big step forward

The Sea Coast Echo

How overjoyed I was to read that Frank O'Neil had been appointed school attendance officer by Youth Court Referee Mike Haas.

No appointment ever made in Hancock County is of more importance than this one.

For too long our children have not been compelled to attend school, wasting the talents that could have given them and their families the advantages of a good way of life which can be enjoyed by all of us.

Evening GED classes have been started in Hancock County Public Library and several county schools for those who have been unable to complete high school.

Congratulations to all those who have brought about these wonderful changes in our community. A mind is a terrible thing to waste.

Good food in Waveland makes believers out of newcomers

Editor:

This is a letter to editor to state we just moved to Waveland because we were told it was a "fun town" and good food. Well, it's not. We went to a picnic on Sunday, Oct. 7, given by Civic Association. We have attended many picnics but this was the best — food all the time and good food.

The chicken was the best I ever tasted. We want to go back soon and the good food is what we are after. Waveland is a great town. We are going to stay here.

Hawks revive at halftime for 29-16 win

By EDGAR PEREZ

An uninspired Hancock North Central football team limped into a Milner Stadium locker room at halftime Thursday night in Gulfport trailing the St. John Eagles 8-7.

But it was a different ball club that answered the third quarter whistle and although launching late, the high-flying Hawks grounded the Eagles to pound out an eventual 29-16 victory.

The contrast in the Hawks' first and second half performances conjured up visions of a Knute Rockne-type pep talk from Coach Irvin Favre during the intermission.

"You don't deserve to win," Favre admonished his limp-feathered birds of prey concerning their first half effort.

"I never thought we would go into this game flat," Favre commented after the game, adding, "thank goodness we managed to come back and control the football in the second half—good blocking and hard running gave us a good second half."

"We did an excellent job on (Eric) Flemming," the Hawk coach noted on the team effort to contain the Eagles' star receiver.

The Hawk defenses pressured Eagle Quarterback Bubba Pomtree to the extent that Flemming was limited to only two receptions for a slim 14 yards.

Hawk Tailback Lydell Curry turned in an outstanding performance, carrying the ball 31 times for 192 yards rushing and snagging two Scott Favre passes for an additional 27 yards.

Curry's ground-gaining carried him into the Eagle end zone five times, including four touchdown runs and a successful two point conversion dash.

The hard-driving Hawk back has emerged as the leading scorer in the Deep South Conference thus far this year with a total of 106 points and 16 touchdowns.

Also hitting the score board for the Hawks Thursday night were Tackle Steve McQueen who kicked the extra point following HNC's lone first half score about six and a half minutes into the first quarter, and End Gary Fricke who snagged a Favre toss for two points after Curry's third touchdown in the opening minutes of the fourth quarter.

HNC Fullback Mark Jackson, who picked up 52 yards on 10 carries, was stopped short on a two-point run late in the fourth quarter.

Favre completed 11 passes out of 16 attempts with no interceptions for a total of 178 yards.

The quarterback picked up good yardage on several keepers, but was sacked into a negative eight yards for the evening in the record book.

The Hawks picked up a total of 209 yards on the ground and 178 through the air.

Favre completed 11 of 16 for 178 yards, giving the Hawks a total offensive effort of 387 yards.

The Hawks' snappy young quarterback has surpassed the 700 mark in passing yardage so far this season.

End Darrin Ladner took in four Favre tosses for some 30 yards. Wingback Tony Guidry added 56 yards to the aerial attack on three receptions.

In addition to his two-point scoring reception, Fricke was Favre's target on two other occasions for a total of 66 yards, including a 56-yard connection on the sixth play of the game which set up the Hawks' first score.

Hawk Quarterback Melton Lewis set the stage in the third quarter for the second Hancock touchdown when he intercepted a Pomtree pass at the HNC 25 and returned the ball to mid-field.

Ladner picked off another Pomtree toss in the same period, but lost the ball when he was slammed by the Eagle secondary.

Curry also grabbed an errant Eagle aerial to end a St. John drive near mid-field in the closing minutes of the game.

The Hawks avoided a punting situation with 18 first downs to only seven for their opponents who punted three times for a 40-yard average.

Four penalties called against the Hawks, including two 15-yard holding infractions, resulted in the loss of 50 yards.

The Eagles lost 20 yards on two penalties.

In addition to the 14 yards passing, the Eagles added 124 yards rushing for an offensive total of 138 yards.

Eagle Tackle Kerwin Cuevas scooped up a loose ball after Scott Favre was patted while attempting to throw with a minute left in the first half.

Cuevas raced some 50 yards to post the Eagle's first touchdown. Guard Andy Conn held on to a deflected pass to give the hometown team their 8-7 halftime lead.

Midway through the fourth quarter, Eagle Running Back Kevin Williams rolled through the Hawks like a bowling ball on a 55-yard scoring run.

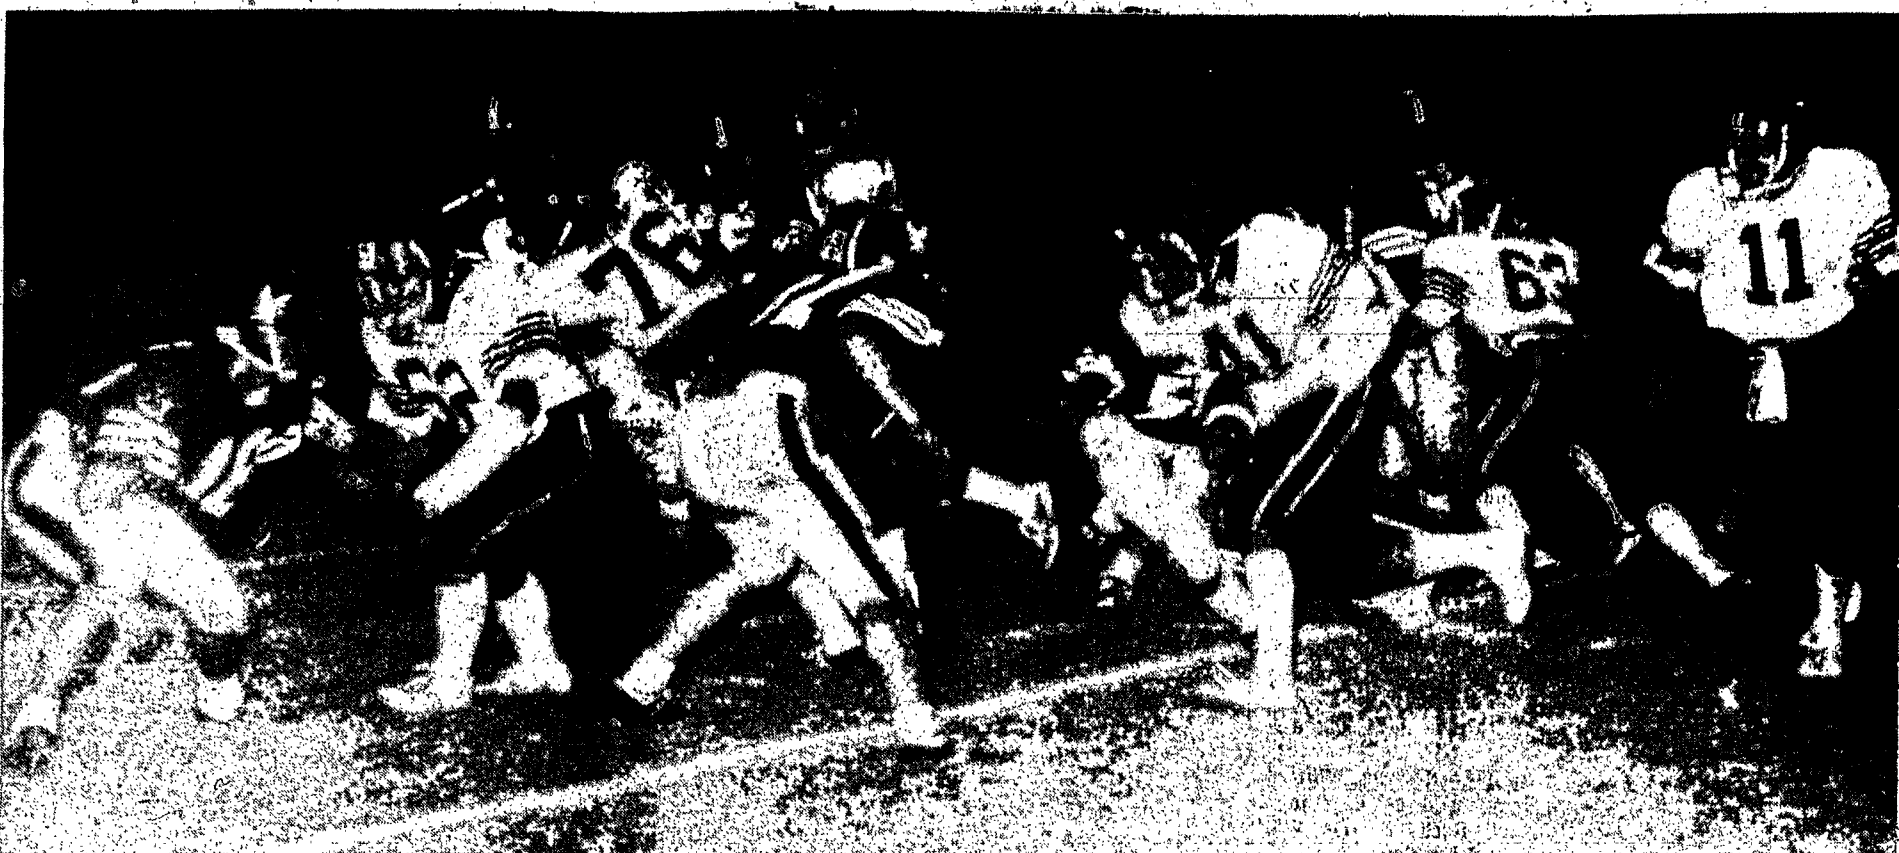

Another two-point Eagle conversion put new life in the game with the Eagles in reach of the Hawks, 23-16.

But Curry locked it up three minutes later with his fourth touchdown from the two to cap a nine-play, 60-yard drive in which he carried seven times for a total of 48 yards.

The Hawks will engage in a crucial conference contest Friday at home against Vancleave, a team which carried Pearl River Central into double overtime.

Thursday's Hawk-Eagle contest in Gulfport was video taped for HNC by St. Stanislaus head coach Vernon Powell after Hancock's Mike Hailey was forced to miss the game due to pressing personal business.

"We appreciate Vernon's effort on our behalf, it reflects the good working relationships we have with St. Stanislaus and with Bay High," Coach Favre stated.

Pirates wake up in overtime to squash EC Hornets, 14-7

By WAYNE DUCOMB JR.

The Pass Christian High School Pirates woke up in overtime play Friday night and squashed the East Central High School Hornets at Francis S. McDonald Stadium in Pass Christian, 14-7.

Except for the Pirates' ruthless and effective overtime performance, both teams throughout the seemingly unending contest resembled two arthritic ballet troupes—leaping, diving, colliding and falling.

Pass Christian's poor game performance probably was the result of several key players benched due to injuries, coupled with psychologically dulling effect from playing a weak team.

East Central played like does—badly.

The Pirates opened the game with a bang.

After receiving the opening kickoff, the Pirates marched across the field from their own 24 to score within the first four minutes of the contest.

Pass Quarterback Joey Rogers in that drive and throughout the evening primarily relied on tough Running Back Winston Ausmer for rushing yardage.

The Pirates drove to the Hornet one-yard-line where Rogers pulled a sneaker around his right guard for the first touchdown of the evening.

Field Goal Specialist Billy Bonney booted the extra point but an illegal use of the hands penalty nullified the point and pushed the Pirates 15 yards back and out of Bonney's range.

So Rogers came back in the game and threw a good pass to Ausmer who scrambled into the end zone to up the score to 8-0.

About midway into the second quarter, the Hornets regained possession on their own 27 and mounted a long and laborious scoring drive.

East Central Quarterback Ricky Jackson also primarily relied on one runningback, Jerome Clark, in that drive and throughout the game.

The Hornets eventually swarmed to the Pirate 10 where Jackson threw a short pass to Wing Back Bobby Goldman with one minute and six seconds left in the first half.

East Central then baffled the Pirate defenders with a fake field goal play in which the lumbering Field Goal Specialist and Center Darrell Clark waddled through a gaping hole in the right side line for the game tying conversion points.

Throughout a defensive second half, both teams failed to break the 8-8 deadlock.

In high school football overtime, each team is given the ball on the opponent's 10-yard line and four downs to score.

The coin toss gave East Central the first chance, but woke up the awesome Pirate defensive line which sacked the Hornet quarterback three times.

Jackson was sacked on the first down on the 18 by Pirate Tight End Rodney Conway, then Back Pat McDonald got Jackson on the 27, he threw an incomplete pass resulting from the Pass' defensive pressure and then to top it off an unlisted Pirate, No. 3, sacked the quarterback on the 40.

A finally fired up Pass offense got their turn on the 10. Rogers gave Ausmer the ball but he was knocked down on the 12.

But on the second down, Rogers rifled a pass to Wide Out Irvin Hall in the right corner of the end zone to win the game, 14-8.

Hawks ninth graders defeat Rocks 28-0

By ELLIS CUEVAS

The Hancock North Central

Hawks defeated the St. Stanislaus Rock-A-Chaws 28-0 Wednesday behind the nifty running of Charles Burton, tailback.

Burton scored three touchdowns and also two points on a pass reception for a PAT.

The Hawks moved to a first quarter score on a Burton 14 yard run and missed the PAT.

HNC added another six points in the second quarter on a five yard run by Burton.

Brett Favre, Hawk quarterback, hit Burton with a pass for the conversion to give the Hawks a 14-0 lead.

Burton exploded on a 70 yard punt return for his third score in the third quarter. Favre then tossed a two point conversion to Troy Wickton.

Favre topped the scoring with an eight yard keeper, giving the Hawks a 28-0 victory.

The Hawks' 14-0 lead was a testament to their team effort on the field. "We were very confident," said Favre, "and we played very hard."

first downs on fourth and short yardage to keep several offensive drives during the game from stalling.

Burton leads the Deep South Conference with 76 points scored.

The young Hawks are now 5-1 for the season and 3-0 in conference as leaders.

They lost their first game to Harrison Central 14-12, which is an AA school.

They then won five in a row; 13-0 over Pearl River Central; 22-20 over Stone County; 12-6 over Pass Christian; 32-7 over d'Iberville; and the 28-0 victory over Stanislaus.

The Hawks have scored 119 points to their opponents' 47. Next Thursday the Hawks will host Picayune, one of the top teams in the Gulf Coast Conference.

Shaw reports the Maroon Hawks 4-1 for the season, and the school is now 3-0 in conference. The game will be on Thursday at 7 p.m. at the Hancock Stadium with the Hawks leading 14-0.

Rocks lose to St. Paul 29-7

Too much, too little,
too late

By TOM ACKERMAN

A 52-yard run by Rock running back Todd Thriffliey...

And 41 yards on options by Rock quarterback Casey Wittman...

But for the St. Stanislaus Rock-A-Chaws it was all too much, too little, too late as they fell Friday at the hands of the St. Paul Saints of Mobile, 29-7.

"St. Paul came out and played a good game, fundamentally," explained Rock coach Vernon Powell on his way to congratulate the victors at center field. "We made our mistakes early, and we just had too much to make up."

The Saints, ranked number three among class AA schools in Alabama, took an early lead, scoring on their first possession with 7:09 remaining on the first-quarter clock, and racked up a 29-0 lead before the Rocks could mount a successful offensive drive.

Late in the fourth quarter, Rock running back Todd Thriffliey returned a Saint punt to the 18 before being upset, not by a Saint tackle, but by one of several sink holes in the playing field.

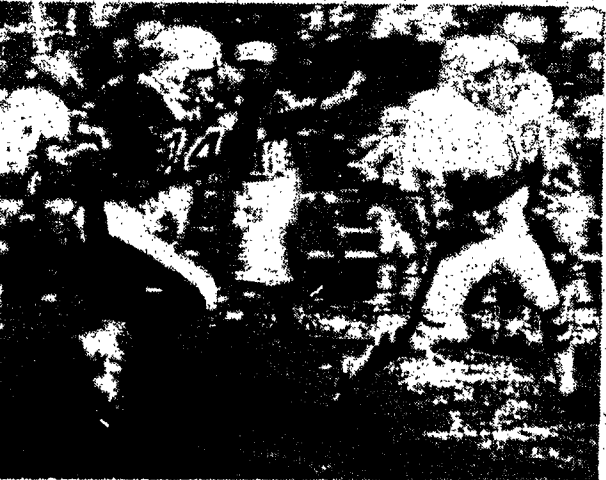

But it was enough. Rock tight end Darrin Scarborough half, found quarterback Wittman exercising the option, moving the ball well on several keepers. On the opening kickoff of the third period, Todd Thriffliey received and was downed at the 15. Then Wittman carried to the 23 on another, to give the Rocks a first down.

In the second series, Wittman kept for three plays to move the Rocks to the 44 where the drive died. The Rock-A-Chaw defense held the Saints, momentarily, but the next Stanislaus possession ended abruptly when a Wittman pass was intercepted at the Rocks' 29.

With 2:22 left in the third quarter, St. Paul scored once more to end their scoring and give them a 29-0 advantage. But the Rocks gained a little momentum when Rock Matt Scardino batted down the conversion attempt to deny the Saints an even 30.

With minutes left in the game, Rock-A-Chaw Thriffliey received a Saint punt at this own 30 and returned it to the St. Paul 18 before being upset by a sinkhole in the field. With 1:18 left in the game, quarterback Wittman carried the ball over on a keeper for the Rocks' only TD. Russ Betcher added one with a good moved the ball to the 15, and quarterback Casey Wittman took it to the 2.

A long count caught the Saint defense sleeping, and the Rocks were able to push through from the one yard line to get on the scoreboard.

"I don't think we really put forth an effort," coach Powell commented, not making excuses for the disappointment. "We certainly didn't play the kind of ball we're capable of. But when the other team jumps ahead 23 to 0 in the first half, that's hard to overcome."

In the first half, the Rocks took their first possession with a 7-0 deficit. On two series, St. Stanislaus moved to within 35 yards, but were forced into a punting situation when the drive stalled.

A Saint interception of a Wittman pass at the start of the second quarter, set the tone for the rest of the first half. The Saints had the momentum, and the Rocks could do little more than watch as the opposition mounted a 23-0 half-time lead.

Candlelight vows unite Hardie, Garcia

Earlene Marie Garcia became the bride of Darryl Wayne Hardie September 9 in a 6 p.m. ceremony at Shoreline Baptist Church with Rev. Glenn Phillips officiating.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard J. Garcia of Waveland. The groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Roderick Hardie Sr. of Bay St. Louis.

Lighted brass candelabra and arrangements of gladioli, chrysanthemums and baby's breath decorated the church. Bouquets of identical flowers and candelabra lined the aisle.

Nuptial music was provided by Judy Schubert, organist, and John Mason, vocalist. Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal gown of white sheerganza over bridal taffeta featuring a Queen Anne neckline outline in Alencon lace and embellished with seed pearls, sheer bishop sleeves ending in fitted lace cuffs and fitted bodice adorned with Alencon lace and seed pearls. Her full skirt was fashioned with crystal pleating in the front and extended to a cathedral train featuring a full panel of lace in the back and matching lace trimmed the hemline. A bridal portrait hat was appliqued with identical lace and a walk length tulle veil. She carried a lighted cascade of exotic and tropical flowers imported from Hawaii and Africa. The bouquet was designed by the bride's aunt, Ruth Fleury of San Diego, Ca.

Cathy O'Gwin, cousin of the bride, and Charlene Garcia, sister of the bride, of Waveland, were matron and maid of honor, respectively. Bridesmaids were Faulette Shlyou and Kellie Carvin of Bay St. Louis, and Jessica Fountain, cousin of the bride, of Waveland.

The attendants wore formal gowns in pastel blue and yellow featuring crystal pleated skirts and sheer capelets with bows at the shoulders. They carried cascades of imported tropical flowers and wore hair ornaments of matching flowers. Stephanie Necaise of Waveland, cousin of the bride, was flower girl. Ring bearer was Jason O'Gwin, of Waveland.

Roderick Hardie Jr. of Bay St. Louis, brother of the groom, was best man. Groomsmen were Richard Hardie, brother of the groom; Pat Cuevas of Waveland and John Edgcomb of Pass Christian.

MR. AND MRS. ROBERT GORDON BOH

Serving as ushers were Merlin Necaise Jr. and Barry Ladner of Waveland and Christ Bermond of Bay St. Louis.

The bride's mother chose for the occasion a formal gown of light orchid taffeta with a white chantilly lace overlay, Victorian neckline, full puffed sleeves and flounce at the hemline.

The mother of the groom was attired in a gown of mauve pink tulle with sheer ruffle at the shoulder.

A reception followed the ceremony at the National Guard Armory.

The seven tiered wedding cake was centered with a fountain and flanked with palms, brass candelabra and arrangements of tropical flowers.

Assisting at the reception were Betty Necaise, Margaret Bourgeois, Mary Fricke, Peggy Ladner, aunt of the bride; Carol Garcia, Patricia Cuevas, Margie Necaise, Pam and Jimmy Harris, aunt and uncle of the bride; Mr. and Mrs. Don Majors, Felton Cuevas, Lindsey Aucpins, Glenn Necaise and Brenda Carver.

Pre-nuptial Parties
A miscellaneous shower was held at the Gulf National Bank civic room August 28. Hostesses were Mrs. Margie Necaise, Patsy Cuevas, Peggy Ladner, Carol Garcia and Cathy O'Gwin.

The home of Mrs. Luke Caruso was the setting for a shower given by Mrs. Caruso and Mrs. Joyce Buquol.

A rehearsal party was hosted at the Shoreline Baptist Church September 7 by the groom's mother, assisted by Mrs. Rose Miller and Mrs. Ida Sherwin.

Boh, Rowlett wed in Baton Rouge

Mary Lane Rowlett and Robert Gordon Boh were married at 2 p.m. September 17 at First Presbyterian Church, Baton Rouge, La.

The bride is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. William M. Rowlett of Hopkinsville, Ky. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Martin J. Boh Jr. of Bay St. Louis, and the late J. Robert Boh.

Rev. Bob Duval officiated at the double ring ceremony. Julie Upton, pianist, and Brady Clark, guitarist, provided the nuptial music.

The altar was decorated with three candelabra, entwined with ivy and white satin bows and fronted with brass urns filled with arrangements of mums, gladioli and carnations. White satin bows decorated the kneeling bench and also marked the family pews.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, chose a formal floor-length gown of candlelight English net overlaid in chantilly and schiffli lace. Her bodice was accented with a Victorian neckline of ruffled schiffli, and her long slender lace sleeve ended in the same ruffling.

The natural waistline of the gown was enhanced with a satin bow and ribbon sash. A delicate pattern of lace extended just below her waistline. The slightly gathered skirt fell into a deep floral border of lace before ending in a sweep train. Her fingertip veil of silk illusion was touched with a border of candlelight chantilly lace attached to a cap of chantilly lace.

She carried a cascade bouquet of cymbidium orchids outlined with magnolia foliage.

The bride's sister, Betsy Rowlett of Denver, Colo., was maid of honor.

Bridesmaids were Mary Kay Martuscelli, Carbondale, Ill.; Marie Riley, Champaign, Ill.; Lynn Evans, Baton Rouge; Kathryn Boh, sister of the bridegroom, Bay St. Louis; Mrs. Mike Chilton, Houston, Texas; Janey Rowlett, sister of the bride, Hopkinsville.

The bridesmaids wore gowns of sea-green matte-jersey accented at the waist with a dramatic hot-pink sash of tissue taffeta. The formal length gowns featured a high mandarin collar and full bishop sleeves edged in lace. Rows of tucking accented their hemline. The attendants carried bouquets of rubrum lilies, white stock and Boston fern tied with hot-pink streamers.

The bridegroom's brother, Michael Boh of New Orleans was best man.

Groomsmen were John Rowlett, brother of the bride, Auburn, Ala.; Jeff Proctor, Baton Rouge; John Gorden, New Orleans; John Adams, Edgar Santa Cruz and Randy Santa Cruz, all of Bay St. Louis.

Ushers were Bob Laurie, Steve Richard, Rod Steffel, Baton Rouge.

The reception was held in the church reception hall following the ceremony.

Following a wedding trip to Gulf Shores, Ala., the couple will live in Baton Rouge.

Pre-nuptial Events
A linen shower was given by Mary Kay Martuscelli and Mrs. Pete Martuscelli.

A miscellaneous shower was given by Bonnie Wexler and Susan Flakus of Baton Rouge. A personal shower was given by Mrs. Mike Chilton. A lingerie shower was given by Mrs. Chris Tapp and Lynn Evans.

A bridesmaids' luncheon was given by Jodie Knight, Mrs. Chris Tapp and Nancy Geiselman. The rehearsal dinner was given by Dr. and Mrs. Marion Wolfe Jr.

Diamondhead Gardeners slate October events

The Diamondhead Garden Club met Wednesday, September 28 in the Aloha Room of the Country Club, with Ms. Jean Keen, vice-president, chairing the meeting in the absence of Mrs. R.B. Boatright, president.

Yearbooks were distributed as the members registered. All committee members were introduced, some of whom gave the following reports:

Mrs. Lloyd Bell, civic development chairman, asked members held with maintenance of the East Recreational Center's trees and plants.

Mrs. J.H. Johnson, energy conservation chairman, reported on a recent energy workshop she had attended.

Mrs. Leslie Page, landscape design chairman, brought pamphlets for all members from the Cooperative Extension Service, Mississippi State University, titled "Selecting Landscape Plants", and gave a brief review of its contents.

Mrs. L.F. Wallace, Ways and Means chairman, took orders for bulbs and National Council calendars.

Mrs. John Booth, Memorial Gardens chairman, said that the members of the club had been won: Blue ribbon certificate for being an Honor Roll Club, Blue and Gold certificate for Horticulture; Certificates of Merit for participation in federal projects, for civic improvement and for sponsoring a student to Youth Nature Camp.

Announcement was made of the Flower Show School, course 1, to be held at the Bay-Waveland Garden Center October 8, 9, and 10.

The Gulf Coast Council of Garden Clubs met at the Diamondhead Community Church October 7. Mrs. Talbot Steele was appointed chairman of the tea following the meeting.

PAD (Parents Association of Diamondhead) is sponsoring a Halloween Carnival October 30 at 1 p.m. on the Country Club grounds.

Mrs. Clement Acker, chairman, invited the Garden Club to enter a booth of games, the proceeds of which would be retained by the club.

Mrs. William Neff, birds chairman, gave a talk on the Chimney Swift.

Mrs. Hillaire Ogden invited all members to a brown bag luncheon at her home, October 8 for a floral design workshop. Garden of the Month plaque was given to Mr. and Mrs. Luther Grice. Members were reminded that next month's meeting will be a field trip to New Orleans Park and Audubon Park.

The following guests were introduced: Mmdms. L. Tallet, L. Velkas, C. Busletter, G.A. Rodney, C.C. Harvey, P.A. Purnley, L. Eddy, F.S. Drees and R.G. Toca.

The program, titled "Flowers, Fantasy and Fashion" was given by Mr. John Tucker of Kenner, La., who gave a slide presentation of Gardens Around the World, with miniature dolls dressed for period and place "escorting" the tour.

Old recipes handed down may be inadequate in today's kitchen

By PHILIP BREEZE
Mississippi Cooperative
Extension Service

Grandma frequently had to make to with what was available, and many old canning recipes are compromises between ideal procedures and procedures possible in pre-microwave kitchens.

Oven canning was once popular but is discouraged today for several reasons.

Wood stoves provided a constant temperature, modern stoves are controlled by thermostats that turn the heat on and off, providing an average temperature, but not always a constant one," said Melissa Nixon, food and nutrition specialist with the Mississippi Cooperative Extension Service.

"The food in the jar may not reach the necessary temperature to destroy bacteria. In addition, dry heat does not penetrate food as well as steam under pressure, or boiling water. So, even if the temperature is constant, it may not be maintained long enough for all the food being canned to reach temperatures necessary to kill bacteria.

"The safety of the food aside, the procedure is dangerous. Pressure built up in jars in the oven can cause an explosion and drafts of cool air caused by opening the oven door can cause jars to break," Mrs. Nixon said.

Open kettle, as opposed to pressure cooker, canning was another popular method. It is discouraged today because fruits and vegetables boiled in an open kettle simply will not reach temperatures sufficient to kill bacteria, yeast and molds.

In addition, this method requires the transfer of the food from the kettle to jars between cooking and sealing. This allows for the re-introduction of many of the germs the boiling was supposed to remove.

"Grandmother's recipe for canning green beans may call for adding vinegar or an aspirin to make them more acidic and then processing in a boiling water bath. This procedure is not safe since the vinegar or aspirin does not increase the acid level enough to kill bacteria, and the boiling water doesn't kill them either," Mrs. Nixon said.

All vegetables, except tomatoes and those being pickled, require a more intense heat treatment to kill disease causing organisms than can be obtained in an open kettle.

"The only safe way to can these foods is with a steam pressure canner to obtain temperatures above boiling," Mrs. Nixon said.

Another fault Mrs. Nixon found with many old recipes is their incompleteness.

"Often these recipes will say, 'Pack in sterile jars and seal.' The recipe does not say anything about processing the food. Heat processing of all jams, jellies, marmalades, preserves, pickles and relishes is required to destroy organisms that cause spoilage and to inactivate enzymes that may affect flavor, color and texture," Mrs. Nixon said.

The third major fault with ancient recipes, according to Mrs. Nixon, is that measurements may be inaccurate and ingredients called for may have changed over the years.

"Years ago, for example, vinegar was 10 percent acetic acid, compared to the 4 to 6 percent in vinegar today. Many recipes were built around homemade vinegar which was even stronger than the 10 percent vinegar. Modern vinegar in old recipes will not raise the food to a safe acidity level," Mrs. Nixon said.

One other difference between old and modern recipes is the inclusion of lime or alum in pickle recipes. Grandma may have used one of those ingredients to ensure crispness.

Mrs. Nixon said good quality ingredients and up-to-date procedures are all that is necessary to guarantee crisp pickles.

Mrs. Nixon urged home canners to carefully consider whether to use old recipes.

"Not all spoilage can be detected by sight and smell, so a family could eat a poisonous food without knowing it," she said.

Autumn brings to Munich, Germany, each year the world-renowned "Oktoberfest"... a festival of wondrously good food and beer and conviviality, a spirited cousin of our own harvest festivals in America.

The hands play, the beer flows freely, and the sounds of the "Beer Barrel Polka" and other lively tunes fill the air, and here in America, for that matter along our own Coast, the Oktoberfest is observed merrily, with some of our restaurants featuring the traditional festival food of the Oktoberfest... the pork and kraut and apple dishes, the potato pancakes, the hot potato salad, and so forth.

It all began long ago, in 1810 to be exact, when the Crown Prince Ludwig of Bavaria (later known as Mad King Ludwig) married the Austrian Princess Theresa, and his countrymen celebrated the event so vigorously that it became known as "the largest wedding feast in the world."

Here's an easy falltime pork and apple dish that's sure to please. Here's:

SAUSAGE STUFFED APPLES

8 apples, cored
1/4 lb. ground pork
4 to 5 drops hot pepper sauce
1 clove garlic, minced
Dash (about 1/8 tsp.) oregano, sage, thyme
Pepper, salt, if desired
Starting with a cold skillet, heat the pork sausage somewhat, until it starts to render the fat, then add the garlic and seasonings. Brown the mixture over moderate fire, then drain the fat.
Taste to see if you need additional seasoning. Fill each apple core with some of the mixture, and bake for about a half hour at 350 degrees, or until the apples yield to the touch of a fork. (Six servings).

Story Hour titles listed

Every Thursday at 10:30 a.m. a story hour is conducted at the City-County Library in Bay St. Louis.

Story Hour is a service provided by the Hancock County Library System for pre-school children from the ages of three to six.

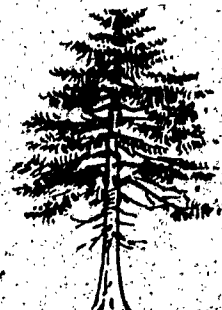

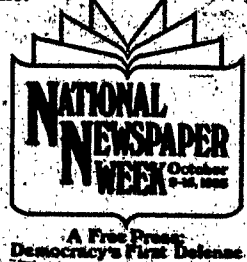

The first book to be read this week is 'Donkey Donkey' by Roger Duvoisin.

'Arms Are Swinging,' a physical activity, will be performed between stories.

The second book is 'A Rhinoceros Wakes Me Up In The Morning' by Peter Goodspeed.

'Two Little Monkeys,' a fingerplay, will be presented next.

Story hour concludes with the motion picture film, 'Curious George Rides A Bike.'

TREE ROOTS

There are some common misconceptions about the roots of trees.

First, most people have the idea that the tap root is most important and that as long as it is intact the tree will survive.

The fact is many older trees have no tap root at all, and further, all trees get the greatest part of their nutrients, water and structural support through lateral roots which run just below the soil surface.

It is common for people to think that all roots of a tree are found deep within the soil. Actually 90 percent of all roots of most trees are in the top 12 to 18 inches of soil.

In heavier clay soils, the roots will commonly be even shallower. Certain species, such as beech and magnolia, tend to have many roots which run along the surface of the soil.

The root system of a tree is generally much more extensive than most people realize. Given unlimited soil space, a tree's root system will reach out as far from the tree, in all directions, as the tree is tall.

That is, a 100-foot tall oak tree could have a root system of 200 feet in diameter.

Roots need oxygen in the soil to survive. This is why putting heavy clay fill around a tree or disrupting drainage so that water stands around a tree will eventually kill it, because these practices cut off oxygen, literally smothering the roots.

Trees growing in restricted soil conditions, such as in downtown sidewalk planting holes, have very limited space for roots.

They need supplemental watering and fertilization to survive, and even then their lifespans are shorter than trees growing in better soil conditions.

What does all this mean?
First, when doing any kind of construction work around trees, people tend to do much more root damage to trees than they realize because the root system is closer to the surface and more extensive than commonly believed.

Second, for mature trees growing in restricted soil space between slabs, drives and streets, good tree health and longevity depend on timely tree care activities such as fertilization and watering.

THE ABUNDANT LIFE

By Shawn Murphy

MINISTER, BAY-ST. LOUIS CHURCH OF CHRIST

Of the top three killers in our society today, heart disease, cancer, and alcoholism, at least two are stress-related!

That makes stress the number one killer in our country!

It would not be far wrong to say that ours is the most stress-ridden society in the history of the civilized world.

The days of walking beside babbling brooks, along country roads seems to have passed us by.

The hurry up, get it done yesterday world has taken over the easy-going lifestyle of the farm.

Our lives consist of too many instant dinners, shouting matches and strained relationships and too little sleep, family time and communion with God.

But how can we loosen the death-grip of stress. The best way is to pray.

The following is a prayer written by Charles Swindoll that I would like you to pray with me.

God of peace:
We long to be more like you in our everyday life. But we are so different.

You are so calm and patient; we are often in a hurry, irritable.

WXGR to air Columbus Day message

A special Columbus Day address will be heard over Radio Station WXGR Wednesday at 2 p.m., according to Jody Knight, grand knight of Father A. C. Denis Knights of Columbus Council No. 7087 in Kiln.

Knight said the address would be delivered by Virgil C. Dechant, supreme knight of the Knights of Columbus.

Dechant is executive head of the nearly 1.4 million member Catholic, family, fraternal, service organization.

In commenting on the program, Knight said, "Some 491 years ago, Christopher Columbus completed one of the most daring and courageous exploratory sea voyages recorded in the annals of mankind—the discovery of the North American Continent and this week nearly 1.4 million men of the western hemisphere, all Knights of Columbus members, join together in observing the anniversary of Columbus' epic voyage."

"A poet can survive anything but a misprint."

St. Rose de Lima Catholic Church Parish News

By Fr. B.C. Keller
Today's scriptures trace the journey that brings us to the eucharist and beyond. We know the death sin brings, so we seek healing. With the restoration of life, we offer our gift of praise and thanksgiving.

Religion class will be conducted after 9 a.m. Mass today for the public school students of grades 6, 7 and 8. Other grades will begin weekdays at 3:20 p.m.: Monday, grades 1 and 2; Tuesday, grades 3 and 4; and Wednesday, grade 5.

An initial meeting for all high school students, grades 9 through 12, who are not ready for Confirmation or who are already confirmed, will be held today at 5:30 p.m. We need your presence to help finalize plans for the month ahead.

A special meeting for Confirmation—students, 15 or older, is scheduled for tomorrow at 6:30 p.m. Since preparation for Confirmation involves the whole family, according to the Diocesan guidelines, you need to come with at least one parent.

Today starts Vocation Awareness Week. Vocations?

Each of us takes part in God's "cause" by being the best person we can be. Maybe you would like to consider the freedom of a religious life for yourself or maybe encourage someone you love who might be generous enough to respond to such a call.

Pray for the eleven seminarians studying for the Biloxi diocese and also for the eleven novices at St. Augustine Seminary preparing to be Divine Word Missionaries.

Our Gospel Choir will practice on Tuesday at 6:30 p.m.; the Little People Choir, Saturday at 10 a.m.

Our parish council will meet on Tuesday at 7 p.m. in hall behind school.

Our Inquiry Class will meet on Wednesday at 7:30 p.m.

Parishioners are urged to donate a unit of blood to replenish the dwindling supply of the American Red Cross blood bank. Drawings will be taken this Wednesday at the American Legion Home from 2-8 p.m.

Next Sunday we will have a Rite of Election at the 9 a.m. Mass for some newcomers in to our parish family.

Navy family outlines experiences in Iran

SPECIAL LIBRARY PROGRAM—Commander and Mrs. John Elkins, and daughter Caro Lu display Iranian items they collected during a military tour in that country. Charles Gottschalk, Friend of the Library advisory committee member in background presented the Elkins family with a book in appreciation of their program. (Staff photo by Ellis Cuevas)

By JOE PILET
Coordinator
Friends of the Library
Commander John Elkins and his vivacious wife, Beth, captivated their audience on Thursday when, sponsored by Friends of the Library, the couple gave an entertaining and informative talk-show on Iran as they knew that ancient Asian country during a 1973-76 tour of duty there.

Tables, racks, and peg boards as well as considerable floor space displayed a treasure trove of interesting books, pictures, Oriental rugs and cushions, games, utensils of copper, brass, glass and tin ware, jewelry and prayer beads.

Vying for attention and receiving it was a lively, active and spiny little hedgehog, a pet owned by the couple's eight-year-old, dark-haired adopted Asian daughter, Caro Lu. The little hedgehog, native prayer rug on the floor and demonstrated the proper position one assumes in prayer.

"Our home was modern," Mrs. Elkins told the group, "the floors were marble and there were three baths — including an Asian one used by our house boy who helped us through the rough spots of adjusting to customs, doing the shopping, cooking and seeing that your youngest child got safely to kindergarten."

Mrs. Elkins holds a master's degree in education and taught while living in Iran.

On weekends and when the commander was on leave they explored the country to learn of customs, places of historical interest and collect items that caught their fancy.

Collectibles included everything from a tea picker's basket to games, books, prayer beads and household items.

"In the summer many people sleep on their flat roofed homes, but the country can get quite cold in winter with lots of snow."

The roofs must be cleared of snow immediately or melting snow will leak into the house," said the commander who added they learned of the importance of roof cleaning the hard way when after a heavy snowfall the meltings caused the camel dung roofing to collapse and fall into the kitchen.

Students from Bay Junior High seventh grade social studies class taught by Miss Mary Kay Jones were fascinated with the antics of the little hedgehog.

A string of camels' bells were rung, reminding the Elkins of the sound of spring time in Iran when drivers of camel caravans delivered dung for use in the city public gardens. "In Iran the people have a deep appreciation and love for flowers," Mrs. Elkins said.

Dressed in "tourist-type" Iranian clothing, Mrs. Elkins looked stunning in a high-necked cream colored blouse worn with a long, neatly fitted skirt of floral geometric pattern.

Her husband wore a jacket of similar material. "Iranian women wear very dull garments usually," said Mrs. Elkins holding up a nondescript black robe.

Yards and yards of Iranian woven fabrics were draped on the long display table. "People of Iran wear their wealth and the financial status of a person is determined by the number of gold bracelets worn by the women."

The Elkinses said during their stay in Iran no people went hungry, however begging was a profession. Beggars were ever in evidence.

They had specified locations. Not to give to a beggar was unheard of, and women frequently maimed their own children to qualify them as beggars.

"We liked our street's beggar," Mrs. Elkins told the group. He kept a lookout for suspicious characters and strangers. If one is not seen doing something wrong... then it didn't happen, according to the strange Asian reasoning," she said.

On behalf of the Friends group Charles Gottschalk, member of the advisory board, presented the Elkinses with a book in appreciation of their program.

Earlier in the program Miss Martha Van Peski, coordinator for membership and telephone committees announced the membership had increased to more than 200 members with 33 life memberships included.

She complimented the work of Miss Doris Corrio, the group's treasurer.

Mrs. Olive McKenna presented Mrs. Rose Ann Thomas and accompanied her solo renditions of selections from The Sound of Music.

Refreshments were served through the courtesy of the Women's Junior Auxiliary with Mrs. Yvonne Raphael as hostess.

The group toured the library where Pendergraft's gem and mineral collection was featured in the entrance display case. Guests from the Diamondhead Community and from the Church of Latter-day Saints were introduced.

Friends of the Library will meet next on Nov. 3 when Stewart Nelson will be sponsored on an oceanographic program.

All interested persons are invited. There is no charge for admission and no membership is required.

THE DIAMONDHEAD EVENING CLINIC

Will be closed from October 10 through 14 for vacations. Office hours will resume on Monday, October 17. Appointments 1 p.m. to 5 p.m.

Prices Outpacing Affordability
QUESTION: As the prices of homes continue to go up and up, I don't see how the average family can afford to buy. What is happening with home affordability? T.T., Columbus ANSWER: Dear T.T.: By the beginning of next year, the median price of existing homes nationwide is expected to be approximately $72,000. The median price of new homes is expected to be around $79,000. These estimates are the predictions of economists with the National Association of Realtors (NAR).

Currently, the median price of an existing home still outpaces the ability of a family earning the U.S. median income to afford it. But the gap is narrowing. The June index (84) means a family earning the median income had 84 percent of the income necessary to qualify for the purchase of a median-priced home. This latest index is the highest since January, 1983, when it stood at 86. The last time the index was 100 — meaning the median family income was exactly what was needed to qualify for a median-priced existing home — was December, 1978. The index has been below 100 ever since.

The index assumes a home buyer puts 20 percent down to buy a home and pays no more than 25 percent of his before-tax income for mortgage principal and interest. Declining mortgage interest rates in recent months are the prime reason for the brightening picture.

FACTS & FIGURES

Nearly one out of five replacement passenger car tires sold in a retread. Ninety-eight percent of the world's airlines use retreaded tires. So do nearly 100 percent of off-the-road, heavy-duty vehicles. Retreads are used on everything from federal and military vehicles to school buses and race cars.

The cost of a retreaded passenger car tire is 50 to 70 percent of the cost of a new tire. Truck retread savings are greater. In 1983, this will mean more than $2 billion in savings to consumers.

PUBLIC NOTICES

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING

Notice is hereby given of a public hearing to be held jointly by the Department of Natural Resources, Bureau of Pollution Control and the Waveland Regional Wastewater Management District (WRWMD). The public hearing will be held on Monday, November 28, 1983, at 7:00 p.m. in the Waveland Public Library, 333 Coleman Avenue, Waveland, Mississippi.

The public hearing will be held for the purpose of formally receiving public comments on both the proposed Revision of the Gulf Coast Area Wastewater Management Plan (201 Plan) for Hancock County, Mississippi. This proposed revision has been developed by the Waveland Regional Wastewater Management District and reflects a change in management agencies responsible for wastewater treatment in Hancock County. The 1983 Update to the 201 Facilities Plan was completed pursuant to the provisions of Section 261 of Public Law 92-217, the 1977 amendments to the Clean Water Act. This 201 update addresses the current and projected sewer needs for Hancock County. The 201 Plan calls for the construction, management, financing, operation and maintenance of the treatment facilities needed in Hancock County.

Documentation in the form of:

(1) The 1983 Update to the 201 Facilities Plan for Hancock County, Mississippi, and

(2) The Department of Natural Resources, Bureau of Pollution Control, Gulf Coast 201 Plan Revision of November 1983 Summary Report will be available in the following public facilities on or before October 28, 1983 for public review and comment:

Pascagoula City Library, South Pascagoula Street, Pascagoula, Mississippi; Ocean Springs Library, Dewey Avenue, Ocean Springs, Mississippi; Gulfport-Harrison County Library, 21st Avenue, Gulfport, Mississippi; City-County Library, Highway 90, Bay St. Louis, Mississippi; Waveland Library, Coleman Avenue, Waveland, Mississippi.

The public is invited to review the documentation and to provide comments, so that its views can be considered in the adoption of the Gulf Coast Wastewater Management Plan Revision of November, 1983 and the 1983 Update to the 201 Facilities Plan for Hancock County, Mississippi. The Waveland Regional Wastewater Management District will make a presentation beginning at 7:00 p.m. followed by a question and answer period. Formal statements from the public are encouraged.
